In 2016, the United States accepted 84,994 refugees. 1 in 10 of all foreign born people in the U.S. came as refugees. Of those, 72% were women, and children under the age of 14. 15% were Syrian. 46% were Muslim. 44% were Christian.